

OPEN EDUCATIONAL RESOURCES (OERs)

Why create teaching materials from scratch when you can find ready-made professional teaching materials fast, easy and free!

Open education resources (OERs) are free and openly licensed materials that can be used for teaching, learning, research, and other purposes. OERs come in a wide variety of formats including videos, case studies, open textbooks, reading lists, or even whole courses (aka open courseware). These materials are offered under Creative Commons Licences.

To find Open Educational Resources click on OERs on the Library homepage:
