Downloading an eBook

- 1- Select which eBook you wish to download and Click on the 'Download' button on the hosts' site.
- 2- If you don't have Adobe Digital Edition installed - follow the link and install the Mac or PC version on your computer. Please note the public computers in the Library do not have Adobe Digital Edition installed or the ability to install it – You can only read the eBook online on public library computers.
- 3- Select the loan length and select the format desired if the option is available. Some publishers have set loan periods and formats.
- 4- Download and save the .acsm file to your computer.
- 5- Open Adobe Digital Editions and to add your new book goto File – Add to library – choose file type “Adobe Content Service Message” and click on the .acsm file you just downloaded – then open. The title will be installed and added to your Library.

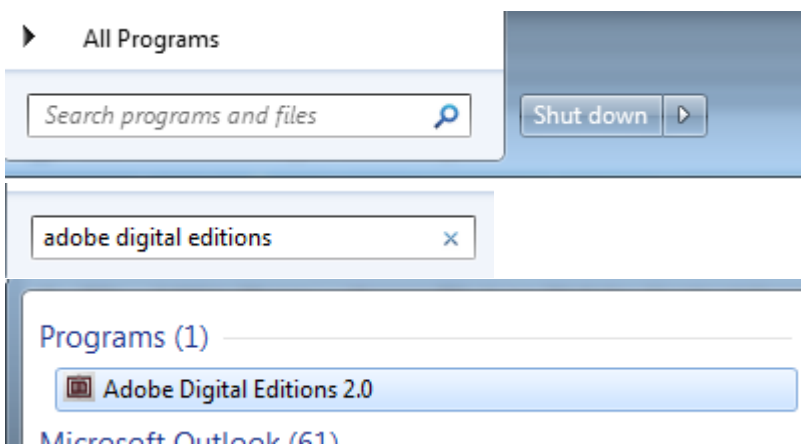

NOTE: When you first run Adobe Digital Editions it asks for your Adobe ID and password to view an eBook. You can skip this step and continue without an ID and authorize your computer to view the file.

See the Adobe FAQ if you want to set up your personal ID.

If you are uncertain whether you have Adobe Digital Editions goto start button in Windows: search for Adobe Digital Editions

ALTERNATE METHOD – You can assign the .acsm file type to Adobe digital editions once it is installed on your computer e.g.
