Downloading large amounts of records to EndNote for Systematic Reviews

Contents
EBSCO Databases (e.g. CINAHL, PsycINFO, Medline Full Text) ......................... 2
Cochrane Library ................................................................................................... 7
EMBASE (Elsevier) ................................................................................................ 9
Ovid Databases (e.g. Medline, EMBASE, AMED) .............................................. 11
Informit ............................................................................................................. 13
Proquest ........................................................................................................... 15
PubMed (Old Interface) .................................................................................... 18
PubMed (New Interface) .................................................................................. 20
Scopus .............................................................................................................. 22
Web of Science .................................................................................................. 24
EBSCO Databases (e.g. CINAHL, PsycINFO, Medline Full Text)

Maximum download: 200 (or up to 25,000 via email link)

How to download up to 200 references:

Step 1: Select page options > select 50 results per page

Step 2: Choose Share and select all on page (1-50)
Go to the next page and repeat the process until you have selected 4 pages worth of records (200)

Step 3: When finished, go to folder view on the right of screen

Step 4: Select all in folder
Step 5: Click the export icon on the right of screen

![Image showing the export icon]

Step 6: Select Direct Export in RIS format

Save citations to a file formatted for:

- Direct Export in RIS Format (e.g. CITAVI, EasyBib, EndNote, ProCite, Reference Manager, Zotero)

Step 7: Press the save button (you can also tick the ‘remove items from folder after saving’ button)

Number of items to be saved: 200

- Remove these items from folder after saving

Save

Step 8: An RIS file will go into your downloads area. Open it

![Image showing an RIS file named delivery (2).ris]
Step 9: Success!
To send email file in EBSCO (up to 25,000 references):

Step 1: Go to share>email a link to download exported results (up to 25,000)

Step 2: Complete the email form and tick RIS export
Cochrane Library

Maximum download: Unlimited

How to download:

Step 1: After running your search, press select all

Cochrane Database of Systematic Reviews
Issue 5 of 12, May 2020

- Deselect all (920)
- Export selected citation(s)
- Show all previews

Order by Relevancy

Step 2: Choose export selected citations

Step 3: Choose RIS EndNote and press Download (you can tick include abstract if you like also)
Step 4: Open the file that downloads

!File opening

Step 5: Success!

!Reference management
EMBASE (Elsevier)

Maximum download: 10,000

How to download:

Step 1: After searching – select number of items 1-10,000

Step 2: Select export

Step 3: Choose the (default) RIS export option and press export
Step 4: Wait a while…

Preparing for Export

Please wait while your data is prepared for RIS format (Mendeley, EndNote).

Step 5: When its ready press download

Ready for download

Export ready for download.

Download >

Step 6: Click on the RIS file in your downloads

records.ris
4.0/37.9 MB, 59 secs left

Step 7: Success (takes a minute or two..)

My Library

All References (10000)

Imported References (10000)
Ovid Databases (e.g. Medline, EMBASE, AMED)

Maximum download: 500

How to download:

Step 1: Next to the select all button write 1-500

- Step 2: Click on Export

- Step 3: Choose RIS or EndNote in the drop down window then press Export
Step 4: Click on the file that goes into your download folder.

Step 5: Success!
Informit

Maximum download: 200

How to download:

Step 1: After searching, click Citations>select all

!Citations: SELECT ALL

Step 2: Then press save

!SAVE EMAIL PRINT

Step 3: Specify 200 records to export, choose EndNote direct from the output format drop down and press save.

!Records to Save
Step 4: Click on the RIS file in your downloads folder.

!saveRecords.ris

Step 5: Success!
Proquest

Maximum download: Potentially unlimited. We have tested successfully up to 1000, but you have to select them in groups on 100 at a time.

How to download:
Step 1: After searching scroll to the bottom of the page and choose 100 results per page

!Items per page drop-down menu with 20 selected

Step 2: Return to the top of page and select all on page

!Select 1-100 with 100 Selected items

Step 3: Repeat this process on additional pages as required.

!Select 101-200 with 200 Selected items

Step 4: Go to all save options

!All save options button
Step 5: Choose RIS export

Step 6: Tick deselect items when done

Step 7: Then scroll down and press continue

Step 8: Click on the file that downloads
Step 9: Success!
PubMed (Old Interface)

Maximum download: 200

How to download

Step 1: After searching choose 200 items per page.

Step 2: Press Send to and choose Citation manager

Step 3: Click create file

Generate a file for use with external citation management software.

Number to send:

200

Start from citation:

1

Create File
Step 4: Click on the citations.nbib file

Step 5: Success!
PubMed (New Interface)

Maximum download: 10,000

How to download:

Step 1: After searching, click Send to and then Citation manager

```
Save  Email  Send to
```

Step 2: Choose what you want to export

Create a file for external citation management software

Step 3: Click ‘create file’

Create a file for external citation management software
Step 4: Click on the citations.nbib file

Step 5: Success!
Scopus

Maximum download: 2,000

How to download:

Step 1: After searching, select all then press export

!All ▼ Export

Step 2: Choose RIS

- [ ] SciVal
- [x] RIS Format
  - EndNote, Reference Manager

Step 3: Then press export

!Cancel Export

Step 4: Choose RIS again (for some reason)

Select export type

- [x] RIS - Only the first 2,000 documents
- [ ] CSV - Only the first 20,000 documents, citation information only
Step 5: Then press export again (for some reason, again)

Step 6: Click the RIS download file

Step 7: Success!
Web of Science

Maximum download: 500

How to download:

Step 1: After searching, press export and select EndNote desktop

Step 2: Choose your 500 records and press export again

- Records from: 1 to 500
  No more than 500 records at a time.

Record Content:

- Author, Title, Source, Abstract

Step 3: Open the file that downloads

Step 4: Success!